BASEBALL SEASON OPENS SATURDAY

The Gould baseball season will finally get under way Saturday when the locals travel to Rumford for a practice game with their J. V. team. The game with Norway scheduled for last Saturday will be played Monday, May 20.

Not much is known about the local team as yet. Neither the Academy field nor the one at the Fair Grounds is in condition and so the only practice has been some batting at Brown's. However, the infield should be well taken care of with Swan, Clough, Gavel and Wentzell as the first line of defense. They have all been hitting the ball hard too and are anxious to get going on a good diamond.

The outfield candidates have had a little practice and Amato, Jenks, Tucker, and Cummings seem to be the leading contenders. The battery department suffered a severe loss when Billings injured his hand in practice Tuesday. This means the catching Saturday will be in the hands of V. Adams or L. Baker.

Both of these boys are inexperienced but have plenty of fight. It is planned to divide the pitching assignment between Jenks, Tucker, and Roberts in this first game. Jenks has the makings of a first-class pitcher with more experience. He has a fast ball and a good assortment of curves. Tucker has plenty of speed and good control and will be used to finish up when the others tire. Roberts, as soon as he gets control, will have plenty of chance to display his "fire" ball.

Work will be started soon in getting the Academy field in suitable playing condition for the first home game of the season Saturday, May 11 with Norway.

DR. TOWNSEND TO BE AT PORTLAND SATURDAY

ALTON F. BARTLETT

Alton F. Bartlett of Hanover passed away at his home in that town Wednesday forenoon after a long period of illness. Although Mr. Bartlett had been in failing health for the past four years, the end came quite suddenly and was a great shock to his family and wide circle of friends.

Mr. Bartlett was born in Hanover on Jan. 25, 1894, the son of Charles and Martha Bartlett. He had always resided at the home-stand where he died. He was a graduate of Gould Academy in the class of 1914 and of Shaw's Business College in Portland. He had been for many years one of the leading land and timberland operators of northwestern Maine, a business which he conducted with his brother Charles, also of Hanover.

He had served his town as selectman and as a member of the school board. He represented his district in the legislature two terms from 1923 to 1925 and was twice elected to the State Senate in 1932 and 1934.

For a number of years he had served as a director of the Rumford Falls Trust Co.

He took a keen interest in politics, having served as chairman of the Oxford County Democratic Committee and as state committeeman for Oxford County.

Mr. Bartlett was a Past Master of Bethel Lodge, F. & A. M. and a member of Kora Temple, Shrine. He was also a member of Alder River Grange of East Bethel and the Bethel Lions Club.

He is survived by his brother, Charles Bartlett of Hanover, and by five cousins: Mrs. Ned Foster, Framingham, Mass.; Mrs. Ada Dyer, Camden; Ralph Richardson, Hanover; Lester Richardson, Mexico; Elwood Richardson, Hanover.

Funeral will be at the family home-stand in Hanover at 2 p. m. Sunday May 5 with interment at Hanover Cemetery.

MRS. BESSIE SLOANE

Mrs. Bessie Sloane passed away very suddenly Sunday, April 28. She was born in Upton Oct. 21, 1888, the daughter of Joshua Gould and Mary Day Rich. She was the youngest of a family of 14 children. When she was two years old the family moved to the "Irish Neighbourhood" in Greenwood, where she attended school. After the death of her mother she lived with her father, Mrs. Fannie Holt for some time.

In 1887 she was united in marriage to Francis G. Sloan of Albany and lived in Albany 25 years. Since then she has lived in Bethel. She was employed as cook at Holden Hall for four years and endeared herself to the many students boarding there. She was employed at Bethel Inn for a long time.

Since a serious illness in 1933 she had been unable to do much work. She had spent much time out in the woods gathering flowers, mosses and partridge berries. She loved the woods and the many wild flowers. She enjoyed working with the mosses and berries, putting them in jars for her many friends.

Since last October she had been with her daughter, Mrs. Gertrude Bartlett and family. She had engaged the rent at the home of Mr. —Continued on Page Eight

After the War he worked as an oil-rigger near Tampico, Mexico, on a sugar plantation in Cuba, as a ranch hand in Wyoming and as a riveter in the Ford airplane factory. He has been actively interested in air transport and at present is a director of United Air Lines.

GOULD 4 P. G.'S 3

A short practice game was held Wednesday afternoon to give some of the boys a chance to show their wares under fire. The "regulars" were fortunate in that the game was called because of darkness after their opponents had tied the score in the first of the sixth inning, the score thereby reverting to the end of the last full inning giving the locals a well-earned victory. The Gould team looked good in spots considering the fine type of opposition they were getting but there is much left to do when once a practice field is available.

Tucker and Jenks both looked very good on the mound and also at the plate, getting two hits apiece. Tucker had two doubles for his to make him the leading hitter of the day. Swan played well afield and Amato, Wentzell, and Clough all turned in some fine backing. The "Victims" did a mighty fine job considering the fact that they had not had an opportunity to practice.

A return engagement is scheduled when the Academy field is suitable for play.

Al Pearce
Crash Got Him Into Radio

LISTEN TO THIS

By TOM FIZDALE

Al Pearce, heard Fridays at 7:30 p. m. EST, over CBS, for the sponsor of Ilka Chase, Grand Ole Opry and Blondie, owes his long and successful career to the market crash of 1929. Pearce was a salesman but when the real estate business zoomed to the ground in 1929, Pearce assembled a group of entertainers and started broadcasting. This month he is celebrating 11 years in radio with his lovable "Elmer Blunt" character rated as a national figure and his catch phrase, "I hope, I hope, I hope," ranking with Fibber and Molly's "Tah't Funny, McGee," as one of America's ten most popular taglines.

Rudy Vallee is inaugurating a research department to be employed in producing the historical fantasies which he is presenting on his Thursday NBC programs. The Vallee production staff, headed by Nick Knight, is employing John Rider, research expert, to dig up historical incidents Vallee can satirize with original music for his shows.

A few weeks ago lovely Gertrude Warner was an unknown living in Hartford, Conn., but a New York talent scout saw her, gave her a radio audition, and now she's winning network plaudits for her excellent work on "Light of the World," the Biblical series broadcast Mondays through Fridays at 2:00 p. m. EST, over NBC. This series, sponsored by the bank-roller of "Beat the Band," the musicquiz program featuring Ted Weems' orchestra, is transplanting the Bible into modern prose under the direction of Dr. James Moffat, of the Union Theological Seminary, Columbia University.

The guest star policy is being resumed this month on the Hollywood original portion of the CBS Star Theater, the hour long program which featured comedy and song from Hollywood and drama from New York. During the current run, the Star Theater has been responsible for giving the radio public such top flight stars as Helen Hayes, Edna Barrymore, Frederic March, Philip Merivale, Claude Rains, Jane Cowl, Joan Bennett, Margo and Douglas Montgomery.

ported, the interviews he has had with Mussolini, Lloyd George, Ramsay MacDonald, etc.

Edwin C. Hill has "covered" a lot of territory in his time. He has covered every presidential convention for the past 32 years and was dubbed "The Unofficial Member of Teddy Roosevelt's Cabinet" by none other than Teddy himself. This year Hill will cover still another convention—one which may upset tradition by electing a third term president, also named Roosevelt. Mr. Hill, whose Human Side of the News is heard over the CBS network Mondays through Fridays, is writing a book containing little known human facts about the great and near great he has interviewed over a period of 27 years, the conventions he has covered, the earthquake he reported, the interviews he has had with Mussolini, Lloyd George, Ramsay MacDonald, etc.

Haggerty, board chairman of International Printing Trades association, shown as he told House subcommittee that proposed "death sentence" chain store tax bill, if enacted, would "disrupt the entire nationwide system of retailing which has made possible the great growth of national advertising." The SNAPSHOT GUILD

HUMOR IN YOUR PICTURES

He just couldn't quite make it. Humorous shots such as this add spice to your album—plenty of chances for them occur in any home.

HUMOROUS pictures are quite rare—and perhaps that is the very reason they have such lasting appeal. If you want snapshots in your album that will never grow old, then keep your eyes open for picture chances that tickle your funnybone.

There are plenty of such opportunities, particularly around homes that have children—which is not to say, of course, that grown-ups don't have their absurd moments too. And if you stay alert for such moments, with your camera loaded and placed where you can get it readily, you'll likely garner some much-prized shots for your album. Sometimes, it's true, you'll have to re-enact things to get your picture. For example, when you find Johnny has been raiding the cookie-jar again, just let him demonstrate how he did it, for the camera—and his guilty look will give you a picture that takes high rank in your collection.

When the youngest member of the family gathers his toys and toddles off to bed, finds he can't quite make the grade, and drops off to sleep half in bed and half out—then you have another picture opportunity well worth seizing. Such a shot, so comic yet so heart-warming, holds more appeal than a handful of routine snaps.

Some situations merit a picture but the circumstances don't recommend taking it immediately. For example, when Daddy goes to hang a picture, but hammers his thumb instead, in such a case, just wait until things cool down a bit—then shoot a picture of him blowing on the injured member, with the hammer and step-ladder in the immediate background.

It's fun to think up ideas for humorous pictures. Recall funny things that have happened in the past—then re-enact them for the camera. These shots lend spice to your album—they'll give extra pleasure to you and your friends, especially if you do them realistically. And meanwhile, always keep your camera loaded and handy, ready to picture the funny little events that may occur almost any time around the home.
